What I Think of Soffrage. OMAHA, July 22.-To the Editor of The Hee: I do not think women would ever have to vote if they would do their duty. If they would teach their children to be ladies and gentlemen.

The little boys should not be left to play on the streets and learn all kinds of mean things or swear and talk saucy to little girls and ladies. They should be taught to respect them and treat them nice. A boy who is taught from little up to respect women folks will be more apt to treat his wife nice when he gets one than to try and make a slave of her. Little girls should be taught to expect to be treated nice by boys and not to be selfish or unkind to them. If a little girl is taught that way, when she gets big she will expect to be respected by the boys and they will respect her. But if a girl does not care how a boy treats her the boys will make a fool of her, and friend."—Washington Herald. if she ever marries her husband will try and make a slave of her. Old Way the Good Way. EMERSON, Neb., July 22.-To the Editor of The Bea: Absence of desire is better than the presence of wealth, for every indulgence begets fresh desires and folly is always ready to go us one better. Money will help to hide our ignorance from the world, but there is no remedy yet discovered for chronic mental apoplexy, and many men are destined to wear their costly allk tiles on an empty head as long as they live. Worldly pleasure is like the little rubber ball in the grafter's shell game; no matter how close you watch it, you never know exactly where it is, although you always think you do. How many golden hours and silver dollars are wasted by young men and women, and older ones, too. seeking pleasures that are merely incidental and transitory; how many continue, day after day, to stupify and enfeeble their minds by attending shabby vulgarity. The time and money spent fooling with automobiles is out of all proportion to their importance, and the time will come when they will be as useless as bicycles, for the joy-riding will cease when the autos become so common that they attract no attention. What sort of a brain will some of our young folks have when they are 50 years of age, when all the knowledge they can boast of at present is summed up in the "tango," the "turkey trot" and the "chicken flip." Of Lord! how long will simpering idiots continue ments? How long will culture and civili ration continue to ape the foolishness of our naked, savage ancestors, who danced and howled, and turkey trotted around the camp fire, away back in the twilight of history?

ILLUSIVE BEAUTY.

Robert Bridges, British Poet-Laurente. I have loved flowers that fade,
Within those magic tents
Rich hues have marriage made
With sweet unmemoried scent
A honeymoon delight—
A joy at love of sight
That ages in an hour—
My song be like a flower!

I have loved airs that die Before their charm is writ Along a liquid sky Trembling to welcome it. Notes, that with pulse of fire Proclaim the spirit's desire, Then die, and are nowhere: My song be like an air!

Die, song, die like a breath,
And wither as a bloom:
Fear not a flowry death,
Dread not an airy tomb!
Fly with delight, fly hence!
'Twas thine love's tender sense
To feast now on thy hier To feast; now on thy bier Beauty shall shed a tear.
